

How do I agree with opinions?

- Exactly!
Exactly! You must have confidence in everything you say.
- That's how I feel
It's funny because that's how I feel also.
- I have to agree
I have to agree with that. You have a big point.
- I never thought about it that way before
I never thought about it that way before. You're brilliant.
- You've found
I think you've found the right answer for our dilemma.

How can I partially disagree?

- I see your point of view, but
I see your point of view, but summer is very humid in Miami.
- You might be right. However
You might be right. However, is it possible?
- You have a good point, though
You have a good point, though it needs some improvement.
- You could say that, but
You could say that, but your character is your greatest legacy.
- Up to a point I agree. Nevertheless
Up to a point I agree. Nevertheless, I'm having a notion that it is not a complete failure.

How can I strongly disagree?

- I don't agree
I don't agree with all of your principles.
- You're not right
You're not right. You're making a big mistake.
- It's not what I believe
It's not what I believe and it's against my will to support you.
- I don't think so
I don't think so. We must try a fresh yet effective strategy.
- That's not such a good idea
That's not such a good idea. Having an idle mind is bad in business.